MADE IN THE USA

Kit:

- ① Headlight Guard

- Required tools:
- ① 13mm spanner
 - ② T40 torx wrench

- ① Mark and record your current headlamp aim before loosening any bolts. You can do this with a small line or mark between the bracket and bike mount, or by pointing your bike at a flat wall and marking where the center of the beam is.

- ② (A) Use 13mm socket and (B) T40 torx tool to loosen both mounting nuts and screws.

- ③ Remove the lower screw, and make sure the upper screw is only finger-tight.

- ④ Support the headlight bucket by hand, or use painter's tape to secure in place. (A) Remove the upper screw and then attach the headlight guard with it. (B) Insert the lower screw and attach both nuts. Snug the lower nut enough to hold the guard in place, leave the upper loose.

- ⑤ Check headlamp aim based on your marks from step 1, and in accordance with manufacturer's instructions. Tighten both nuts to 20 Nm.
