- ① 8 mm wrench

①

Safely lean your bike up against a wall or use the center stand. Put your side stand in the up position and using the included Spring puller remove the OEM double spring on the OEM side stand. It may be easiest to use the palm of one hand to push against the bottom of the raised side stand as leverage while using the other hand to pull on the spring. Save the spring and note it's orientation. They will require the same orientation on the new AltRider Side Stand.

②

Using a 8 mm wrench remove the bolt on the back of the side stand holding the plastic side stand switch sensor. The sensor can temporarily hang. Save all hardware

③

On the front side of the side stand use a 17 mm wrench to remove the locking nut. Save all hardware

④

Using a 14 mm wrench to remove the bolt on the rear remove it from the threaded side stand. Save all hardware, set OEM side stand aside.

⑤

(A) Apply threadlocker to all three AltRider fasteners. Use the two shorter fasteners to set a length for your AltRider side stand and mate the upper and lower together, using a 4mm allen hex key and tighten to 6Nm (5 ft-lb). If you're not sure what height setting you want to set it to you can start with the OEM setting. Insert the longer shouldered fastener into the back of the upper, this is the spring catch using a 3mm allen hex key and tighten to 3Nm (2 ft-lb)

(B) Apply a waterproof grease to the shaft of the bolt and the clevis that the side stand attaches to.

⑥

⑥

You are now ready to install your new Side Stand.

Re-use the OEM bolt and place the bolt in the back of the side stand using a 14mm wrench, apply threadlock. Tighten to 25Nm (18 ft-lb) Place the OEM bolt on the front using 17 mm wrench and tighten to 25Nm (18 ft-lb)

⑦

There's a pin in the sensor, line the pin up with the hole in the back of the side stand. Insert the pin in to the hole and tighten the smaller bolt, apply threadlock, using an 8mm wrench and tighten to 6Nm (f ft-lb).

⑧

Use the included spring puller to attach the OEM spring back in the same orientation it was removed.
